Peggy Hutchison and Karen Lord live in Waterloo, Ontario. Peggy is a Professor in Recreation & Leisure Studies at Brock University. Peggy has been teaching, researching, and writing about inclusion for about 30 years. Karen has many friends and is active in her community through several jobs, and participation in things like church, yoga and a community band.

Shelly Nesman is the self advocate advisor for Community Living BC. Shelly has worked with people with disabilities & their families for over 30 years, including working with organizations such as People First of BC and Richmond Self Advocates. Most recently Shelly worked as a facilitator with Vela Microboard Association of BC. As one of the three members in Strategic Planning, the Self-Advocate Advisor support staff at CLBC to identify issues and explore solutions that affect self-advocates. Part of Shelly's role with CLBC is to assist self advocates to develop their leadership skills.

Shirley Stewart is currently the Executive Director of the Langley Spirit of BC Community Committee, a position she has held for one and a half years. A non-profit organization, the Spirit of BC committee has been responsible for promoting local programs and events as well as promoting opportunities that arise for business, volunteers and the community as we lead up to the 2010 Olympic and Paralympic Games.

Lee Chic holds a B.A. from the University of California Berkeley and a M.A. in Educational Administration from San Jose State University. She taught alternative education in California for 15 years and served as an Education Services Manager for the San Mateo County Office of Education for the last 8 years of her career. She has been a Kiwanian for 7 years and is currently serving as President of the Kiwanis Club of Oliver. Lee was Aktion Club Administrator 2007/2008 during Gov. Rich Jensen's tenure and has enjoyed being the Aktion Club Advisor for the Oliver/Osoyoos since 2004. In addition, she chaired the executive committee which brought the first Aktion Club Conference to the PNW. In addition to her work with Kiwanis, Lee is the local coordinator for the Special Olympics South Okanagan, serves on the Board of the South Okanagan Association for Integrated Community Living, the Osoyoos Concert Society, and the Southern Interior Bluebird Society.
